Introduction

The new Standards and Testing Agency (STA) is responsible for the development and delivery of statutory tests and assessments in 2013. The STA is an executive agency of the Department for Education (DfE).

The level 6 reading papers will be marked by external markers employed by the STA. The markers will follow the mark scheme in this booklet, which is provided here to inform teachers.

This booklet includes the mark scheme for the assessment of level 6 reading. For ease of reference, the test questions have been reproduced. Level threshold tables will be published on the Department's website at www.education.gov.uk/ks2 by Tuesday 9 July 2013.

The Level 6 reading test contains 33 marks.

The mark scheme was written alongside the questions, with pupil responses added as examples following the trials. The mark schemes indicate the criteria on which judgements should be made. In areas of uncertainty however, markers should use professional judgement based on the training they have received.

The assessment focuses for reading provide information about the particular processes or skills the pupil needs to demonstrate in order to answer the questions. This information is provided in order to explain the structure of the mark scheme and the way in which it will be used by external markers. The assessment focuses are drawn from the National Curriculum and are common across both the level 3–5 and the level 6 tests.

The reading test mark schemes

The range of marks available for each question is given under each question in the Reading answer booklet.

Incorrect or unacceptable answers are given a mark of 0. No half marks are awarded. There are several different answer formats:

- Short answers
These may be only a word or phrase, and 1 mark may be awarded for each correct response.
- Several line answers
These may be phrases or a sentence or two, and up to 2 marks may be awarded.
- Longer answers
These require a more detailed explanation of the pupil's opinion, and / or detailed reference to the text, which may include use of quotation. Up to 3 marks may be awarded. The mark scheme will clearly show the maximum mark allocation and the criteria for the award of marks.
- Other answers
Some responses do not involve writing and the requirements are explained in the question.

Assessment focuses for reading

The aspects of reading to be assessed are pupils' ability to:

- AF1 Use a range of strategies, including accurate decoding of text, to read for meaning
- AF2 Understand, describe, select or retrieve information, events or ideas from texts and use quotation and reference to text
- AF3 Deduce, infer or interpret information, events or ideas from texts
- AF4 Identify and comment on the structure and organisation of texts, including grammatical and presentational features at text level
- AF5 Explain and comment on writers' uses of language, including grammatical and literary features at word and sentence level
- AF6 Identify and comment on writers' purposes and viewpoints, and the overall effect of the text on the reader
- AF7 Relate texts to their social, cultural and historical contexts and literary traditions.

How the reading mark scheme is set out

The following table identifies the questions (with marks available) that address each assessment focus (AF):

	AF2	AF3	AF4	AF5	AF6	AF7

Assessment focus 1 underlies the reading of and response to the text and questions in the test, and is not explicitly separately assessed at Key Stage 2. Not all focuses will be appropriate to, or appear in, any one test at any given level.

Section 1: Length after length.

1. On page 4, doggedly ploughing is used to describe swimming lengths of the pool.

Why is this an effective phrase to describe Jess' swimming?

up to 2 marks

Assessment focus 5: explain and comment on writers' uses of language, including grammatical and literary features at word and sentence level.

Acceptable points:

'doggedly' suggests that Jess' swimming is

1. determined / persistent / relentless.

'ploughing' suggests that

2. Jess is swimming in straight lines / in one lane (like a plough makes straight lines)
3. Jess is creating a path through the other swimmers (like a plough creates a path through the field)
4. Jess pushes / forces her way through the water (like a plough leaves furrows in the ground / pushes the earth out of the way)
5. swimming is tiring / requires effort (like ploughing is hard, physical work)
6. the movement is repetitive / regular (like the plough as it carves methodically through the earth)
7. Jess just keeps moving forward / keeps swimming (like a plough keeps going no matter what is in its way).

Award 2 marks for answers that show understanding of how Jess' swimming can be described as both 'doggedly' and 'ploughing'. (The comparison with ploughing can be implied.), eg:

- that it's hard and you have to push yourself and ignore everything else and be very determined. And you have to pull the water with your arms. [B1 + B4]

Award 1 mark for answers that refer to one of the acceptable points, eg:

- because she was a good swimmer and was determined. She could swim a long way [B1]
- to tell the readers that Jess is swimming in a very straight line to stay in her lane [B2]

Do not accept quotation from the text without further explanation, eg:

- Jess stuck to her lane
- trying to ignore the splash of other swimmers.

2. Explain how She locked into her stroke... (page 4) is a turning point in the text.

up to 2 marks

Assessment focus 4: identify and comment on the structure and organisation of texts, including grammatical and presentational features at text level.

Acceptable points:

1. before this, the swimmer is conscious of / irritated by the other swimmers or text focuses on everything going on around her in the pool
2. after this, the focus is on swimming / the sensation of swimming / the rhythm she gets into / her need to swim / her actions and thoughts.

Award 2 marks for reference to both of the acceptable points (an explicit comparison), eg:

- because she has been so bothered about other people before that then she was determined and focused on her swimming
- the first half of the text is about the other people in the pool but when it gets to 'she locked into her stroke' the text changes, it is now about Jess' swimming and rhythm.

Award 1 mark for answers referencing either of the acceptable points, eg:

- it is a turning point in the text because it starts to talk about the rhythm and way she swims and breathes. It also talks about her thoughts of swimming
- she got into the rhythm. She was making herself go on.

3. To be deprived of swimming would be like a perverse kind of drowning. (page 5)

a) What does this show about Jess' feelings towards swimming?

1 mark

Assessment focus 3: deduce, infer or interpret information, events or ideas from texts.

Award 1 mark for answers that recognise that Jess needs to swim / cannot survive without it, eg:

- she loves it so much that she would rather die than go without swimming
- this shows that Jess loves swimming and she is saying she couldn't live without it
- she needed it
- she couldn't do without it.

b) What is unusual about this comparison?

1 mark

Assessment focus 5: explain and comment on writers' uses of language, including grammatical and literary features at word and sentence level.

Acceptable points:

1. drowning usually happens in water
2. it's the opposite to what you'd expect.

Award 1 mark for answers that recognise either of the acceptable points, eg:

- it is unusual because if you didn't swim there would be no water to drown in
- because you can only drown in water and no swimming would be on land
- it's the opposite of what you'd think.

4. Describe the character of Jess based on what you have read.

Explain your answer, using evidence from the whole text.

up to 3 marks

Assessment focus 3: deduce, infer or interpret information, events or ideas from texts.

Acceptable point	Likely evidence / quotation linked to text
1. hard-working / motivated / dedicated	there at 6.30 / stays a long time / swims a long way
2. persistent / determined / stubborn	locked into her stroke / doggedly ploughing / forced herself to keep swimming
3. impatient of others / selfish / frustrated / irritable	says it is becoming unbearable / tries to ignore them / grumbles / made her want to shout with frustration / calls them lemmings / says they are 'flopping'
4. passionate	needed to swim
5. likes / needs a challenge / optimistic about success	big swimming challenge / something to test herself against
6. insecure	vulnerable / worrying
7. confident / optimistic.	loves the isolation of long distance swimming / knows she is strong in will and technique.

Award 3 marks for reference to at least three of the acceptable points, with evidence from the text for each, eg:

- she is dedicated, 'she stuck to her lane' shows she will carry on and on. She is quite irritable, 'the mere sight of the lemmings flopping made her want to shout' shows she is also a passionate person as 'she needed swimming', her love for swimming was immense. [B1+ evidence, B2 + evidence, B4 + evidence]

Award 2 marks for reference to two of the acceptable points, with evidence from the text for both, eg:

- she feels really annoyed and frustrated at the other swimmers because she complains 'that they flop in like lemmings'. Jess is very determined and she hopes that one day, she'd enter a competition and do something she'd be proud of [B3 + evidence, B2 + evidence]
- I think she is determined – 'drove herself'. I think she's ambitious – 'something she could one day be proud of'. [B2 + evidence, B4 + evidence]

Award 1 mark for reference to one of the acceptable points with evidence from the text, or two or more acceptable points without evidence from the text eg:

- she is determined as it says that 'she drove herself on' [B2 + evidence]
- I think she might be a bit short tempered because when people get in her way she gets quite annoyed. I think she might be quite determined because she wants to swim longer and she won't give up. [B3 + B2]

Accept the same evidence for more than one acceptable point, if appropriate.

Section 2: The half-mile.

Reading answer booklet: Page 6

5. Pamela Gillilan describes the half-mile swim as being both a positive and a negative experience.

Identify and explain one positive and one negative phrase from the poem in the table below.

up to 2 marks

Assessment focus 2: understand, describe, select or retrieve information, events or ideas from texts and use quotation and reference to text.

I think he was encouraging because it says; drank words of praise' which shows he congratulates her. [B1 + B6 + B2 with evidence for each]*

Award 2 marks for reference to two of the acceptable points together with evidence from the text to support each point, eg:

- you find out that he was a very supportive dad as he was counting all of the lengths, first from the deep-end board and then he was pacing along side her, urging her on. From the text you could also hear he was proud of her as she said 'As I drank the words of praise'. [B1 and B3 with evidence for both]

Award 1 mark for reference to one of the acceptable points together with evidence from the text, eg:

- the father seems to be very competitive because 'he was pacing alongside, urging me on'. He wants his child to do well at all costs. [B6 + evidence].

Also award 1 mark for simple reference to more than one of the acceptable points without evidence from the text, eg:

- you find out the father is a very encouraging person and has all the confidence in his daughter. He believes in her and is very proud of her. [B2 + B3, no evidence]

8. Verse 3 ends with a semi-colon(;) followed by two words.

a great deal of swimming; still does.

How does the structure of the last line help to emphasise the writer's point?

1 mark

- because if they hadn't been there he would have said no to Maddy and wouldn't have done the triathlon
- because they are there it means he couldn't get out of it.

Award 1 mark for answers that recognise that their presence is a problem, without the reason why, eg:

- it means that they were present at the wrong time for the writer
- it means that they were there, much to dad's dismay.

Also award 1 mark for an explanation of the consequence without linking it to their presence, eg:

12. The writer emphasises throughout that he is a 'novice' (new to triathlon).

How does he do this?

Explain as fully as you can, using evidence from the text.

up to 3 marks

Assessment focus 6: identify and comment on writers' purposes and viewpoints and the overall effect of the text on the reader.

13. he includes the mistakes he makes.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● putting his foot in his trainer with the fruitcake in it / doesn't pace himself / gets stomach ache.

Award 3 marks for answers that identify at least two acceptable points, both with supporting evidence, eg:

- he says that they try but in training they can't really do it because it says 'we all manage a swim in the River Ouse, but none of us feels like leaping on a bike afterwards'. He hasn't done any training like he should because it says they're 'shiny, new running shoes'. The writer brings fruit cake as a snack and I don't think many experts would bring that
- he shows he is a novice firstly when he writes 'naturally I am about to snatch the paper from her and burn it' makes him seem unwilling to do so. If he were a pro he would be up for the challenge. 'Don't think I can keep this front crawl going any longer' shows that he is a novice because a pro would have trained so much he could do it all in front crawl.

Award 2 marks for answers that either identify one acceptable point together with supporting evidence or identify two acceptable points without supporting evidence, eg:

- he keeps getting something wrong throughout the whole triathlon 'Is this the start line?' Should I be at the front?' He doesn't know what he is doing and where he is meant to be
- he explains: 'fortunately, there are OTHER first timers there, happy to poke fun at themselves...' When he says 'other' he means he is a novice/first timer and he is relieved there are other people like him.

Award 1 mark for answers that identify one acceptable point, eg:

- because he didn't know the whole family could do it. He was nervous when he was staring at the lake. The dad always was nervous about each race.

Do not accept quotations without comment, eg:

- neither of us is sure if we can finish
- fortunately there are other first-timers there too.

Accept the same evidence for more than one acceptable point, if appropriate.

13. How can you tell that this article was written for a general audience rather than a sports specialist?

Give two reasons.

up to 2 marks

Award 1 mark for reference to any of the following acceptable points, up to a maximum of 2 marks.

Acceptable points:

1. less focus on the sport itself / no advice (for professionals), eg:
 - it is not about that much sport
 - it wasn't all about the race
 - there is no 'how to' stuff in it.
2. written about / by a 'normal' person / beginner / about his family (rather than a sports person), eg:
 - an ordinary person that isn't a sport expert explained about it
 - because a normal person has written about the triathlon
 - because it is about a whole family who haven't done it before.
3. use of non-technical vocabulary / lack of technical vocabulary / does not provide all the technical information that sports specialists might want to know, eg:
 - it's not using too technical vocabulary
 - it doesn't have very sporty words in.
4. includes feelings and emotions / the experience, eg:
 - because it is about what the writer feels.
5. references to humour / light-hearted nature of the writing, eg:
 - it isn't very serious
 - it's quite funny such as 'oops, the fruitcake' for everyone.
6. informal, chatty style / the title is not appropriate for a serious sports article, eg:
 - it was written in quite an informal style
 - it is very chatty and informal.
7. explains what triathlons consist of, eg:
 - it tells the general audience how a triathlon works.

Section 4: All texts

Reading answer booklet: Page 10

14. Think about all three texts.

In what ways is the triathlon similar to the swimming described in the other texts?

Explain as fully as you can, using evidence from the different texts.

up to 3 marks

Assessment focus 3: deduce, infer or interpret information, events or ideas from texts.

Acceptable points:

1. endurance (long distances / time involved)
2. challenge: mental or physical (pushing themselves / determination / perseverance)
3. need for training
4. sense of achievement
5. have to swim with / feelings about others (other swimmers in pool with Jess / other competitors in triathlon)
6. involve swimming outdoors (sea pool / lake)
7. supported by family (Dad in The half-mile / family in Triathlon).

Award 3 marks for reference to two or more of the acceptable points with supporting evidence from at least two texts including Triathlon for at least one of the points, eg:

- it is all very tiring 'excruciating', 'scramble' and 'drove'. They are all very long distances '400m swim', 'a 23km cycle and a 4km run'. 'the half mile' and 'four miles'. They are all achievements 'proud of', 'a great' and 'adrenaline is still singing'. [B2, B1 and B4].

Award 2 marks for reference to one acceptable point together with supporting evidence from at least two texts including Triathlon, eg:

- because in a triathlon you have to do swimming as well. And you have to try your hardest and not give up eg: (from length after length) 'doggedly ploughing' (from the half mile) 'Steady side-stroke a great deal of swimming' (from the Triathlon) 'I don't think I can keep this up for longer'. [B2]

Award 1 mark for identifying at least one of the acceptable points, eg:

- it tests your endurance and stamina to the absolute maximum [B1]
- they both contain swimming and they both have good points and bad points. They all include going a long distance [B1]
- they both won't give up and they both have trained very hard [B2 + B3].

Do not accept answers which simply say there are references to swimming / sport in all the texts, eg:

- they are all about swimming.

Reading answer booklet: Page 11

15. Why do you think this booklet is called Going the distance?

Explain as fully as you can, using evidence from the different texts.

up to 3 marks

Assessment focus 6: identify and comment on writers' purposes and viewpoints and the overall effect of the text on the reader.

Acceptable points:

1. Literal - reference to long distance they have to swim, run or cycle
2. Metaphorical - reference to challenge / overcoming obstacles physical and mental / going that bit further / determination to be good at something.

Award 3 marks for reference to both acceptable points together with evidence from at least two texts for at least one of the points, eg:

- I think this booklet is called 'Going the Distance' because it is all about people who have done 'sporting achievements'. Length after Length is about a girl who loves swimming and swims for ages every day. The half-mile is about a young woman who swims half a mile without stopping. Triathlon – Will Dad Make it? is about a father who does swimming, cycling and running all in one go. They all went a very long distance! [B2 and B1 + evidence]
- I think it is called Going the Distance because they are all stories of people who do something a long way eg, Jess swims 4 miles and the Dad does a triathlon with a bad back. Finally they all have challenges but they don't let them get in the way eg. bad back, hard to see in sea water and lots of people. [B1 + evidence and B2]

Award 2 marks for reference to both acceptable points or for reference to one acceptable point together with evidence from at least two texts, eg:

- I think it is called going the distance because it is all about sports and going as far as you can. When it says going the distance it means you should give yourself a challenge [B1 and B2]
- in my opinion it's because in the first text Jess swims 4 miles in the poem the person swam half a mile and in the article the dad did '400m swim' as well as a '23km cycle' and a '4km run' as a result they all swim, cycle and run a far distance therefore the title going the distance. [B1 + evidence]

Award 1 mark for reference to one acceptable point, eg:

- because they are going long distances [B1]
- I think the book is called 'Going the Distance' because in each challenge the person is achieving and determined. [B2]
